Insurance:

You are responsible for understanding your coverage, getting authorizations or necessary referrals for your visits and for tracking usage of your allowed visits. We will bill your insurance company promptly. However, should your insurance company be non-responsive or not pay for visits within 45 days, you will be responsible for the full amount due on your account. All copays, deductible and coinsurance are due at the time of visit unless otherwise agreed upon with PCI in writing.

I have read and understand the Insurance policy and agree to the terms:
Signature: _____

Confidentiality:
The information revealed by you is private, and will not be released to anyone without your knowledge and/or written consent. You may wish to grant permission to have your situation discussed with someone else (e.g., a teacher or your physician). We may seek peer consultation about your treatment, where clinically advisable, and discuss your situation among Potomac Center staff.
There are some circumstances where information about you may be revealed:
-If you plan to use medical insurance for your treatment, insurance and managed care companies require specific clinical information in order to process your claim. By using these companies, you agree to allow such information to be released. You will be informed prior to the release as to what information about you will be revealed.
-If there is a clear and imminent danger to yourself or someone else, your therapist has a legal responsibility to try to prevent that occurrence. If you indicate that you have impending suicidal or homicidal plans, knowledge of child abuse, or if you are a health care worker whose job functioning is impaired, warnings about these situations must be given to proper authorities to protect against harm.
-The rules of confidentiality change somewhat when the information is revealed to your therapist when someone else is also present. For example, in marital therapy your spouse may be present for some of the sessions. In group therapy, other patients may be present. Another party to the therapy at some point may request that the information disclosed in their presence be revealed. In these circumstances, the therapist will still attempt to keep your privacy, but the information may not be protected.
-If you become involved in a legal action where your mental health status is at issue, and if a Court of Law deems it necessary, records concerning your treatment may be subpoenaed.

I have read and understand the Confidentiality policy and agree to the terms:
Signature: _____

Payment:
Payment for therapy is expected at the time of each session. If paying by check, please have your check made out to PCI. Payment for psychological evaluations is expected prior to release of the report. If you are using your medical insurance, we will submit a claim to your insurance company for you. Should your insurance company not resolve the account within a reasonable period of time, or should the claim be denied in part or in full, you will be asked to settle the balance on the account in full. Copays, deductibles, coinsurances and self-pay visits are expected to be paid at each session. You are responsible for your own account balance and for any unpaid balances.
I have read and understand the Payment policy and agree to the terms:
Signature: _____

Collection:
Should there be an unpaid balance on your account, we will bill you for the amount due and payment will be expected within 30 days of billing you, unless specific arrangements have been made in writing between your therapist or PCI and you. Should the account not be resolved within 30 days, your account may then be turned over to a collection agency. A $25 collection fee, as well as any interest, may then be added to the account. All collection costs and attorney fees incurred in connection with this action will be the responsibility of the patient. It is further understood that in such a situation, some personal information may no longer be confidential as this information may be revealed to the collection agents.
I have read and understand the Collection policy and agree to the terms:

Virginia Notice Form

"Notice of Psychotherapists" Policies and Practices to Protect the Privacy of Your Health Information

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW PSYCHOLOGICAL AND MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION.
PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY.

1. Uses and Disclosures for Treatment, Payment, and Health Care

I may use or disclose your protected health information (PHI), for treatment, payment, and health care operations purposes with your consent. To help clarify these terms, here are some definitions:

- "PHI" refers to information in your health record that could identify you.
  Treatment, Payment and Health Care Operations
- Treatment is when I provide, coordinate or manage health care and other services related to your health care. An example of treatment would be when I consult with another health care provider, such as your family physician or another psychologist.
- Payment is when I obtain reimbursement for your healthcare. Examples of payment are when I disclose your PHI to your health insurer to obtain reimbursement for your health care or to determine eligibility or coverage.
- Health Care Operation are activities that relate to the performance and operation of my practice. Examples of health care operations re quality assessment and improvement activities, business-related matters such as audits and administrative services, and case management and care coordination.
- Use applies only to activities within my [office, clinic, practice group, etc.], such as releasing, transferring, or providing access to information about you to other parties.

2. Uses and Disclosures Requiring Authorization

I may us or disclose PHI for purposes outside treatment, payment and health care operation when your appropriate authorization is obtained. An "authorization" is written permission above and beyond the general consent that permits only specific disclosures. In those instances, when I am asked for information for purposes outside of treatment, payment, and health care operations. I will obtain an authorization from you before releasing this information. I will also need to obtain an authorization before releasing your psychotherapy notes. "Psychotherapy note: are notes I have made about our conversation during a private, group, joint, or family counseling session, which I have kept separate from the rest of your medical record. These notes are given a greater degree of protection then PHI.

You may revoke all such authorizations (of PHI or psychotherapy notes) at any time, provided each revocation is in writing. You may not revoke an authorization to the extent that (1) I have relied on that authorization; or (2) if the authorization was obtained as a condition of obtaining insurance coverage, and the law provides the insurer the right to consent the claim under policy.

3. Uses and Disclosures with Neither Consent nor Authorization

I may use or disclose PHI without your consent or authorization the following circumstances:

- Child Abuse: If I have reason to suspect that a child is abused or neglected, I am required by law to report the matter immediately to the Virginia Department of Social Services.

- Adult and Domestic Abuse: If I have reason to suspect that an adult is abused, neglected or exploited, I am required by law to immediately make a report and provide relevant information to the Virginia Department of Welfare or Social Services.

- Health Oversight: The Virginia Board of Psychology has the power, when necessary, to subpoena relevant records should I be in the focus of an inquiry.

- Judicial or Administrative Proceedings: If you are involved in a court proceeding and a request is made for information about your diagnosis and treatment and the records thereof, such information is privileged under state law, and I will not release information without the written authorization of you or your legal representative, or a subpoena (of which you have been served, along with the proper notice required by state law). However, if you move to quash (block) the subpoena, I am required to place said records in a sealed envelope and provide them to the clerk of court of the appropriate jurisdiction so that the court can determine whether the records should be released. The privilege does not apply when you are being evaluated for a third party or where the evaluation is court ordered. You will be informed in advanced if this is the case.

- Serious Threat to Health or Safety: if I am engaged in my professional duties and you communicate to me as specific and immediate threat to cause serious bodily injury or death, to an identified or to an identifiable person, and I believe you have the intent and ability to carry out that threat immediately or imminently. I must take steps to protect third parties. These precautions may include (1) warning and potential victim(s), or the parent or guardian of the potential victim(s), if under 18: or (2) notifying a law enforcement office.

- Worker's Compensation: if you file a worker's compensation claim, I am required by law, upon request to submit your relevant mental health information to you, your employer, the insurer, or a certified rehabilitation provider.

4. Patient's Rights and Psychologist's Duties

Patient's Rights:

- Right to Request Restrictions – You have the right to request restrictions on certain uses and disclosures of protected health information about you. However, I am not required to agree to a restriction you request.

- Right to Receive Confidential Communications by Alternative Means and at Alternative Locations – You have the right to request and receive confidential communications of PHI by alternative means and at alternative locations. (For example, you may not want a family member to know that you are seeing me. Upon your request, I will send your bills to another address)

- Right to Inspect and Copy – You have the right to inspect or obtain a copy (or both) of PHI and psychotherapy noted in my mental health and billing records used to make decisions about you for as long as the PHI is maintained in the record. I may deny your access to PHI under certain circumstances, but in some cases, you may have this decision reviewed. On our request, I will discuss with you the details of the request and denial process.

- Right to Amend – You have the right to request an amendment of PHI is maintained in record. I may deny your request. On your request, I will discuss with you the details of the amendment process.

- Right to an Accounting – You generally have the right to receive an accounting of disclosures of PHI for which you have neither provided consent nor authorization (as described in Section III of this Notice)/ On your request, I will discuss with you the details of the account process.

- Right to a Paper Copy – You have the right to obtain a paper copy of the notice from me upon request, even if you have agreed to receive notice electronically.

Psychotherapist's Duties:

- I am required by law to maintain the privacy of PHI and to provide you with a notice of my legal duties and privacy practices with respect to PHI.
- I reserve the right to change the privacy policies and practices described in this notice. Unless I notify you of such changes, however, I am required to abide by the terms currently in effect.
- If I revise my policies and procedures, I will let you know by mail.

V. Questions and Complaints:

If you have questions about this notice, disagree with a decision we made about access to your records, or have other concerns or complaints about your privacy rights, you may contact us at admin@potomaccenter-inc.com or call us at 703-379-7350.

VI. Effective Date, Restrictions and Changes to Privacy Policy

This notice will go into effect on_____ {date patient signs this form}.

I reserve the right to change the terms of this notice and to make the new notice provisions effective for all PHI that I maintain. I will provide you with the revised notice if I make changes.
